Death at The Manor

A murder-mystery game
created by April Gilley
(used with permission)

Welcome foolish mortals to the The Manor. They say where the past lingers, ghosts dwell. Many years ago on a cold, dark and stormy Hallows Eve, a famous dinner party went awry! A man and a woman were killed right here! Was it a jealous mate? A jilted lover? Or a dirty business deal gone dangerously wrong? There are 25 clues to what happened that fateful night. The one who can best piece together who died (and how) will be declared the winner!

Clue Number One

Lord Wilkens had an eye for Lady Marion Massing, even though he was a very married man!

Welcome foolish mortals to the The Manor. They say where the past lingers, ghosts dwell. Many years ago on a cold, dark and stormy Hallows Eve, a famous dinner party went awry! A man and a woman were killed right here! Was it a jealous mate? A jilted lover? Or a dirty business deal gone dangerously wrong? There are 25 clues to what happened that fateful night. The one who can best piece together who died (and how) will be declared the winner!

Clue Number Two

The wine, called Poison, was vintage and came from Mr. Cratz's private cellar.

Welcome foolish mortals to the The Manor. They say where the past lingers, ghosts dwell. Many years ago on a cold, dark and stormy Hallows Eve, a famous dinner party went awry! A man and a woman were killed right here! Was it a jealous mate? A jilted lover? Or a dirty business deal gone dangerously wrong? There are 25 clues to what happened that fateful night. The one who can best piece together who died (and how) will be declared the winner!

Clue Number Three

A dagger was found near Mrs. Cratz with drops of blood on it.

Welcome foolish mortals to the The Manor. They say where the past lingers, ghosts dwell. Many years ago on a cold, dark and stormy Hallows Eve, a famous dinner party went awry! A man and a woman were killed right here! Was it a jealous mate? A jilted lover? Or a dirty business deal gone dangerously wrong? There are 25 clues to what happened that fateful night. The one who can best piece together who died (and how) will be declared the winner!

Clue Number Four

The weather was very stormy and lightening was flashing everywhere.

Welcome foolish mortals to the The Manor. They say where the past lingers, ghosts dwell. Many years ago on a cold, dark and stormy Hallows Eve, a famous dinner party went awry! A man and a woman were killed right here! Was it a jealous mate? A jilted lover? Or a dirty business deal gone dangerously wrong? There are 25 clues to what happened that fateful night. The one who can best piece together who died (and how) will be declared the winner!

Clue Number Five

Mr. Dosett is Mrs. Cratz' father, a very religious family man.

Welcome foolish mortals to the The Manor. They say where the past lingers, ghosts dwell. Many years ago on a cold, dark and stormy Hallows Eve, a famous dinner party went awry! A man and a woman were killed right here! Was it a jealous mate? A jilted lover? Or a dirty business deal gone dangerously wrong? There are 25 clues to what happened that fateful night. The one who can best piece together who died (and how) will be declared the winner!

Clue Number Six

Mrs. Cratz slipped a love note under a bottle of wine to be delivered by the butler, Mr. Greenbay.

Welcome foolish mortals to the The Manor. They say where the past lingers, ghosts dwell. Many years ago on a cold, dark and stormy Hallows Eve, a famous dinner party went awry! A man and a woman were killed right here! Was it a jealous mate? A jilted lover? Or a dirty business deal gone dangerously wrong? There are 25 clues to what happened that fateful night. The one who can best piece together who died (and how) will be declared the winner!

Clue Number Seven

The dining table had an elaborate metal top. The window in the corner was partially open.

Welcome foolish mortals to the The Manor. They say where the past lingers, ghosts dwell. Many years ago on a cold, dark and stormy Hallows Eve, a famous dinner party went awry! A man and a woman were killed right here! Was it a jealous mate? A jilted lover? Or a dirty business deal gone dangerously wrong? There are 25 clues to what happened that fateful night. The one who can best piece together who died (and how) will be declared the winner!

Clue Number Eight

Lord Wilkens and Mrs. Cratz were seen holding hands.

Welcome foolish mortals to the The Manor. They say where the past lingers, ghosts dwell. Many years ago on a cold, dark and stormy Hallows Eve, a famous dinner party went awry! A man and a woman were killed right here! Was it a jealous mate? A jilted lover? Or a dirty business deal gone dangerously wrong? There are 25 clues to what happened that fateful night. The one who can best piece together who died (and how) will be declared the winner!

Clue Number Nine

Mr. Cratz was a very jealous man.

Welcome foolish mortals to the The Manor. They say where the past lingers, ghosts dwell. Many years ago on a cold, dark and stormy Hallows Eve, a famous dinner party went awry! A man and a woman were killed right here! Was it a jealous mate? A jilted lover? Or a dirty business deal gone dangerously wrong? There are 25 clues to what happened that fateful night. The one who can best piece together who died (and how) will be declared the winner!

Clue Number Ten

Mr. Dosett's fingers had burn marks on them.

Welcome foolish mortals to the The Manor. They say where the past lingers, ghosts dwell. Many years ago on a cold, dark and stormy Hallows Eve, a famous dinner party went awry! A man and a woman were killed right here! Was it a jealous mate? A jilted lover? Or a dirty business deal gone dangerously wrong? There are 25 clues to what happened that fateful night. The one who can best piece together who died (and how) will be declared the winner!

Clue Number Eleven

Lord Wilkens did not have his wedding ring on.

Welcome foolish mortals to the The Manor. They say where the past lingers, ghosts dwell. Many years ago on a cold, dark and stormy Hallows Eve, a famous dinner party went awry! A man and a woman were killed right here! Was it a jealous mate? A jilted lover? Or a dirty business deal gone dangerously wrong? There are 25 clues to what happened that fateful night. The one who can best piece together who died (and how) will be declared the winner!

Clue Number Twelve

Mr. Dosett does not smoke.